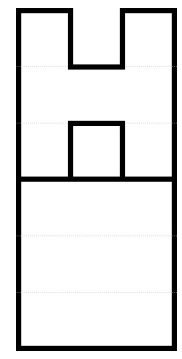
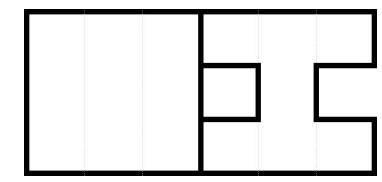
Needing and Waiting for Nourishment

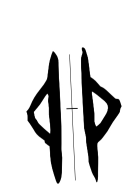




NOURISHING IDEAS: CLOUDS, RISING TO HEAVEN

When I am sky being, water streaming;

Then I am soaking heaven with a steam which will later bring rain to fill the pool of clean, refreshing nourishment.



Inside, I am gathering into one unity with heaven's leading impulse (herding my virtues and harmonizing the tendencies of my heart without employing my influence); and

Outside, I am opening and closing doors of opportunity for earth's heavenly yield (remaining content to wait for the moment that the substances of my life become harmonious and orderly).

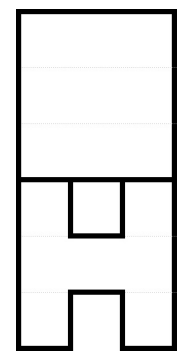
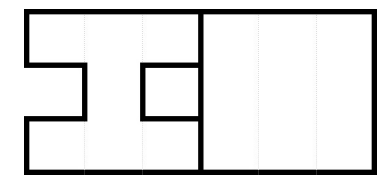
Arguing for an Idea





DEBATING IDEAS: WATER, STREAMING FROM HEAVEN

When I am water streaming, sky being;

Then I am completing the fight and producing rain.

Inside, I am precisely distinguishing heaven's leading impulse (using skills of caution and enlightenment to create while knowing that human inclinations have a way of leading to arguments); and Outside, I am harvesting in the produce of earth's heavenly yield (severing the start of an argument at its beginning so that it has no reason to result in a fight).
